THURSDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1884.

THE CITY.

Curl Newton, of St. Helena, is in town visiting his brother, A. P.

Another spell of winter is on. How long it will last is hard to say.

B. C. Milliken is happy over the advent of a new son in the family.

Hon. H. M. Mason, of St. Ignace, spent Saturday and Sunday in Cheboygan.

Hasn't Cheboygan the necessary culture to get up an art loan? You bet your boots she has.

Col. Bloss, one of General Grant's aids, was in Cheboygan Saturday evening and took in the Spy of Shiloh.

The Marshal requests us to notify property owners on Main street to keep their sidewalks clear of snow and also of obstructions of all kinds.

Archie Chisholm, former Deputy Postmaster of Cheboygan, now located in Chicago arrived Tuesday evening for a visit of a couple of weeks.

W. E. Ross, the bookseller, makes his holiday announcement in this issue. He has a fine stock of goods and many novelties that are worthy inspection.

Mrs. John H. Waterman for some time has been suffering with sciatic rheumatism. Her many friends wish her speedy recovery from the terrible disease.

St. Mary's Catholic school opened the first of the week with a good attendance.
The children all seem to be pleased to get back into their own school again.

The village council at its last meeting ordered the Street Commissioner to notify property owners to make the height of their sidewalks comply with the established grade.

Monday was the anniversary of the "Feast of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin," and was observed by our Roman Catholic friends in Cheboygan, appropriate services being held in St. Mary's church.

It is said the Committee on Rivers and Harbors will only recommend about 25 per cent of the amount of estimates presented Congress for the improving of rivers and harbors. On this basis Cheboygan's portion would be $6,500.

Homer H. and Frank S. Packard and Watts S. Humphrey and George W. Bell, their attorneys, left on the down train Saturday morning for Detroit to attend the U. S. circuit court, that interminable log and lumber suit coming on for trial.

Navigation has closed at this port for the season, not that boats cannot run any longer, as the harbor is as free of ice as in midsummer, but there was no more business. The range lights and pier light were not lighted Monday night.

Wick Wedge is getting so that he can wobble around a little on crutches. The council did a just thing when they voted that his salary should continue while he was disabled. The accident happened while in the discharge of his duty as night watchman.

The ladies of the Baptist church surprised their pastor Rev. Willis G. Clark and estimable wife Monday evening with a pound social party. The result was an enjoyable evening and many pounds of necessary and useful articles in a family left as tokens of appreciation.

It is rumored that there is a commotion among the homesteaders on Bois Blanc Island over a reported dispute between the state and the United States as the ownership of the island. The report is that the state claims it as a portion of the land ceded the state by the general government as swamp lands. The residents have homesteaded under the United States. We can ascertain nothing definite as to the grounds of the report.

The remarkable growth of the Methodist church in the past century is shown from the figures published in connection with the centennial conference, which met in Baltimore Tuesday of this week, December 24th, 1784, the first general conference met in the same city when the church in the United States had 80 ministers and 15,000 members. The conference this week represents a church with 25,000 ministers and 3,800,000 communicants.

Post & Van Arsdale have a new Christmas advertisement in this issue.

Will Ross has a sister visiting him from Canada. Miss Ross arrived Friday night.

It is reported that the Traverse City region will put in more logs than usual this winter.

The steamer City of Cleveland made 66 trips the past season and the City of Mackinac 60.

We understand the Cheboygan Lumber company expects to put in another camp soon with Joseph Rivers as foreman.

Matteon & Robinson started a new lumber camp last week, and expect to put in 2,000,000 or 2,500,000 at that point.

Next Monday evening the A. O. U. W. elect officers for the ensuing year. Every member is requested to try and be present.

The stock of venison in the Cheboygan market still holds out, if it is eleven days to-day since the time, allowed by law, to kill expired.

It is reported that the fishermen on Beaver Island are laying in quite a supply of lumber from the wrecked schooner Chandler J. Wells, ashore on Whisky Island.

The regular meeting of Ruddock Post G. A. R. takes place at their hall Saturday evening. Officers for the ensuing term are to be elected. A full attendance of comrades is desired.

W. H. O'Beare is putting in a machine to manufacture broom handles to run in connection with his hardwood saw mill at Wolverine. This will enable him to work up his hardwood timber closely and obtain all there is in it.

Rozelle Rose, of the Petoskey Democrat, was in Cheboygan last Friday, and the first time we see Mrs. Rose we are going to tell her to keep an eye on Rozelle when he comes to Cheboygan, as he goes a courting, at least he said he was going to court.

George W. Miner, the popular clerk of the propeller Messenger, has accepted a position in Chicago with the United States Express company, and expects to leave in a few days to enter upon his duties. His many friends in Cheboygan wish him success.

John McIntyre, of Mackinac Island, and Miss Jessie Forbes, of Ratho, Ont., were married by Justice Geo. E. Frost Saturday evening, at the latter's residence. The happy couple embarked on the propeller Remora Sunday night for a trip down the lake.

We would call the attention of those looking for holiday presents to the new advertisement of W. & A. McArthur.
They present a fine list of attractive and useful articles, just the thing for presents these hard times. Money invested in these will not be wasted.

Chris. Mills' delivery horse passed up Main street Tuesday evening with the delivery wagon in tow at a moderate gallop, without a driver, and stopped in front of the grocery. He must have thought business was rushing, and that it was necessary to get around in a hurry.

Frederick Peterson, the sailor who fell from the tramway at the Cheboygan Lumber Co's. mill, the evening before Thanksgiving day, and was so seriously injured, died at the Cheboygan Sanitarium Monday about 8 a. m. Dr. Berdan did everything that could be done for him, but from the first had but little hopes of his living. Had he lived his lower extremities would have always been paralyzed.

It is rumored that the steamer Algo-mah will not attempt to buck against the ice this winter in crossing from Mackinaw City to St. Ignace, but will lay up as soon as the ice becomes strong enough to allow teams to cross. The experience of the past has demonstrated that she cannot keep a passage open at that point, and, if the rumor is true, it would seem that the railroad companies interested in the boat have concluded to submit to the inevitable.

We acknowledge the receipt from Auditor General Stevens of a copy of his third annual compilation of the state of Michigan relative to municipal taxation and indebtedness. Taxation in 1881 and indebtedness in 1882. We notice in a number of the tables given in regard to Cheboygan county that the townships of Benton and Iaverness are left out, no report having been received from them.
Hereafter we will give some figures in reference to this county and its several townships.

Sanford Baker arrived home this forenoon, leaving Mrs. Baker and Lillie in the sunny south.

The display of holiday goods in the show windows of the Cheboygan stores is very attractive.

Dave McIntyre has returned to Omaha and is at work in the C. B. & Q. railroad offices at that place.

The propeller Remora left during Sunday night for Port Huron. She was the last craft of the season to clear from this port.

Judge Perkins Saturday received a commodious and conveniently arranged desk for the Probate office. It is of black walnut and just such a piece of furniture as has been needed in the office for years.

The Odd-fellows held a Rebecca degree last night at their hall and initiated quite a number of new members, and after the close of the meeting indulged in a social and dance. Of course they had a good time, they always do.

Frank Wilds started from his home on Black River, in Grant township, Tuesday morning with five bags of wheat in the sleigh, but the roads were so bad that he had to leave his wheat on the way in order to reach town and get back home on the same day.

Mrs. F. L. Childs spent several days in the village completing the delivery of the first volume of Blaine's Twenty Years in Congress, to subscribers. The second volume will be out early in the spring, and then Mrs. Childs will visit the subscribers again.

N. B. Mason received a telegram Saturday announcing the death of his mother at Rocky Ridge, Ohio, where she was visiting one of her sons. She was buried Monday. There being no train from Cheboygan that he could get off on until Monday it was impossible for Mr. Mason to get to the funeral.

A German employed in McCallum's camp near Cecil bay, west of Mackinaw City, had a leg broke Tuesday afternoon.
He was brought down on the train yesterday morning and taken to the Cheboygan Sanitarium, he being fortunate enough in his misfortune to have purchased a ticket in that institution while in sound body.

The ladies of the Congregational church request us to announce that they will give a supper for the benefit of the church Friday evening of next week at the Opera House. It is needless to inform the public that when the ladies of this church announce a supper it is to be of the best the land affords. We bespeak for the ladies a liberal patronage.

The propeller Messenger arrived from her last trip to Manistique for the season, last Friday evening and has gone into winter quarters. She had a tedious time of it. The weather was such that she could not make her north shore landings, and for two days she laid at St.
Helena island waiting a change of wind so she could land. She spent one day at Manistique.

Sometime before the first presentation of the Spy of Shiloh, Frank Howard ordered his special scenery and properties shipped from Pentwater to Cheboygan.
When the opening night arrived it had not yet put in appearance, but a day or so after it arrived and with it a freight bill of over $25. The weight of the entire lot was only 740 pounds and Mr.
Howard thought the charges were rather exorbitant for the amount of freight, and refused to pay, replevying the goods.
It seems they had been going the rounds and had been shipped on about all the lines of boats on Lake Michigan, each putting in their charges for carrying so that when they arrived here the total charges aggregated the amount stated above.

The fates seem to be again Ruddock Post G. A. R. a more disagreeable night than last Saturday night, selected for a repetition of the allegorical play of The Spy of Shiloh for the benefit of the Post, could not well be imagined, but many braved the inclemency of the evening, and were present and all were amply repaid. Had the evening been pleasant there is but little doubt that the hall would have been crowded and the boys in blue have received a substantial benefit, as it was the gross receipts were over $66. The closing tableau, decorating soldiers graves, was a beautiful and affecting picture. Little Bernice Howard recited very beautifully an original poem written expressly for her. The boys will come out some ahead but not near as rich as they deserve.
